To open advancedlifesupportmcq.com, you can login from a computer, or add a direct access to your desktop on your phone or tablet. Once you're signed in, you will be able to access all the exams and contents.

1. On your computer, go to www.advancedlifesupportmcq.com.
2. Click on the button "Login", either on the main screen, or in the menu bar.

3. A new screen will appear for "log In". Insert your username or E-mail and thereafter your password. "Prove your humanity", is just a security box where you have to write the result of a simple operation.
  - a. There is a check box to validate if you want the computer to remember your credentials.
  - b. You will find the options of "Lost Password" if you forgot your username or password, and register if you want to register as a new user or change registry options.
  - c. Finally, click "LOGIN" button.
